WEATHER REPORT

The following reports of temperature and rainfall are made to the Star by the government observer, F. G. B. Weihe, every morning:

Max. Min. Rain

November 1 ..... 79 55 ..

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; colder Wednesday northwest portion.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans had a rather small but enthusiastic meeting at the courthouse last night. Reports were made of successful work during the reunion, and the officers felt that they had a right to be encouraged. A number of applications were received, and it is evident that John M. Martin camp will be able to make a good showing in Tampa next year.

The fire department was called out twice this morning. The first alarm was from Carter's bakery, where an ill-guarded electric wire started a blaze. Fire was put out in a few seconds with the chemical; damage, about $10. A little after 10 o'clock the firemen found a blaze in the pressing club next to them. It was started by some of the pressing apparatus, and was promptly squelched. Fire has to move to get ahead of the Ocala department.

SEE THE FARM on the Silver Springs road which furnishes the Merchant's Cafe every day with fresh vegetables, milk and eggs.

MARION COUNTY EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY

The Marion County Educational Association will meet in regular session Saturday, November 8, at ten a. m. in the high school auditorium.

Miss Stevens and Miss Mendenhall will discuss primary methods for teaching language. This will be followed by a discussion of the educational exhibit to be made at the fair. All teachers are urged to attend this meeting as we especially desire to make a creditable display of the work done in the county schools at the coming fair.

EVERY HOME NEEDS A FAITHFUL COUGH AND COLD REMEDY

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be faithfully used. I never wrote a testimonial before, but I know positively that for myself and family, Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough remedy we ever used and we have tried them all." 50c. and $1.

ORANGE PACKER'S TICKETS

This office will make close prices on sets of tickets for orange packers for the coming season. Write us for samples and prices.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

NOTICE TO HOUSEKEEPERS

If you want any kind of furniture repaired, re-upholstered, re-polished or remodeled, write me. Satisfaction guaranteed, and the prices are right. Fred J. Burden, Box 448, Ocala, Fla.

BEWARE CHEAP SUBSTITUTES

In these days of keen competition it is important that one public should see that they get Chamberlain's cough remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Obtainable everywhere.

Deadlock and Wedlock. "The compositor has made it 'dead lock' instead of 'wedlock'. Shall I stop the press?" "Now, let it go at that. Maybe the compositor was right. He is married, and we are two bachelors. Why should we set ourselves up in judgment over him?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Good Advice. "You state your case very well," said the eminent attorney to the young man who sought his daughter's hand. "Suppose you take it to the court of last resort."

A Good Imitation of Pride. Osmond-Guy struts like a man in his first dress suit. Desmond—Well, hardly that; he struts like a man in his first rented dress suit.—Boston Journal.

A Natural Conclusion. "Why do descriptive writers speak so often of the angry flames?" "I suppose because the flames are usually put out."—Baltimore American.

SILVER MEDAL CONTESTS

There were two silver medal contests held in Sparr Sunday night. There was a contest by a class of seven young ladies and Miss Roberta Shealey won the medal on the recitation: Drink Like a Gentleman.

In the young men's class the medal was awarded to Lewis Madden on the recitation: The Crimson Ballot.

The house was full of interested friends of the young people who gave a liberal offering. Several people drove in from Pine. Next Sunday night there will be a silver medal contest in Pine by some of these same speakers.

Yours for a dry Florida.

Medal Contest Superintendent.

OCALA SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Misses Ruth and Agnes Melin entertained about twenty-five friends at a Hallowe'en party last night at the home of Mrs. Cora Dosh, the affair proving a source of great pleasure to all present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hilands have gone to New York City, their former home, to spend several months.

Miss Ada B. Willis of Crystal River, who has been the guest of Mrs. A. T. Thomas for several days, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. T. J. Nixon of Tallahassee and Mrs. Phillips of Jacksonville, are in the city, called here by the critical illness of their father, Mr. T. J. Blacklock, whose death is momentarily expected.

Mrs. E. M. Hanewacker of Mulberry, is the fortnight guest at the home of her father, Capt. J. A. Tucker.

The Eastern Star sewing circle will meet with Mrs. H. A. Kramer Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wheeler have rented rooms in Mrs. A. M. Perry's residence and set up housekeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Harris have leased the Talley cottage on North Sanchez street and will occupy it as soon as their furniture arrives.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS

This is a medicine intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. It is meeting with much success and rapidly gaining in favor and popularity. Obtainable everywhere.

Our First Coinage.

The earliest coinage of money for America is said to have been made for Virginia in 1612. The London company had been formed for the purpose of pushing colonization work in Virginia, and in 1609 Sir George Somers, an active promoter of the company, set out with an expedition. His vessels encountered a storm and were wrecked on the coast of one of the Bermuda islands. Somers took possession of the islands in the name of Great Britain. He was forced to remain there ten months, but finally reached Virginia. The Bermudas, often since then called Somers islands, were largely colonized by people from Virginia, and the relation between the two became intimate. This accounts for Virginia's first coins being made there. They were of brass, and on one side was represented a ship under full sail, firing a gun. On the other side were the words, "Somers Island," and the figure of a hog, "in memory," as an old time writer quaintly says, "of the abundance of hogs which the English found on their first landing." Argonaut.

Where Silence Was Deadly.

Rome is said to have once been saved by the cackling of geese, but silence cost the people of Amyklæ, an ancient Grecian city, their liberty. The report that an enemy was approaching had been spread so often, creating consternation among the inhabitants, and as often proved false, that the authorities finally passed a law forbidding any one to speak of such a thing. All went well for a time, but there came a day when an enemy did appear, a hostile Spartan army. But the citizens of Amyklæ were law abiding. They talked of the weather, of the crops, of the approaching track meet, but never a word did they speak about the approaching army. Everybody obeyed the law, and nobody told the authorities of the impending danger. Thus the city fell an easy victim to the invaders through the faithful obedience of its citizens to the law.

The Bed of Ware.

A famous piece of furniture is the "bed of Ware," which was formerly preserved at the inn called the Saracens' Head, at Ware, England, but removed to Eves House in 1830. It is considered one of the curiosities of England and measures twelve feet square. It is made of oak elaborately carved and is surrounded by a canopy, supported by a lofty headboard and two massive bedposts at the foot. Twelve persons can occupy this bed comfortably at one time.

The bed bears the date 1400, but antiquarians think it is not older than the time of Elizabeth. Some authorities say that it was offered for sale in 1804 and was bid in by Charles Dickens, while others claim that Dickens' offer of $500 was not considered sufficient and it was bid in by the owner.

The Red Shirt of Italy. The red shirt, destined to become so famous a symbol throughout Europe, was not at first adopted by Garibaldi for any fantastic or spectacular reason. The English Admiral Ingham says that the red shirt had its origin in stern necessity and that its adoption was caused by the need of clothing as economically as possible the legion that Garibaldi had raised for the liberation of Italy. An offer was made by a tradesman to supply at a reduced price a large stock of red woolen shirts. This offer was eagerly closed on. Before many years had passed the red shirt became the symbol not merely of the legion, but of the new spirit working for the liberation of Italy.—Atlanta Constitution.

There is a certain dear old lady who owns a little farm and takes a few boarders in summer.

Recently an anxious young mother who has been industriously delving into medical literature of late inquired of the old lady whether or not the milk that was served at her table was pasteurized.

"Of course," was the old lady's indignant reply. "Don't we keep all the cows we've got in the pasture all summer long?"—Youth's Companion.

FAMILY AVOIDS

SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With

Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.
